I am flexible to deploy, but with one caveat. We are all flying to Denver on September 3 to take Charlotte to school. I'm never going to get to do this again as a parent. Grace will be going to a local Junior College, I hope. We come back from Denver September 8. My 20th Anniversary is September 16. What can I say about that? It seemed like a good idea at the time.

If I go I would prefer Durango/Navajo just because I won't be nervous about missing the Denver trip. I can go anytime, but want to be back before September 2. I can also go anywhere after September 16, but I realize everything should be over by then.

Hey Guys

We are rapidly approaching turning points at Saipan and Durango. To remind, Rob is in Durango and Randy will join him Monday in Farmington. It's likely we'll need some form of an IMT there, Farmington for Navajo impacted areas, next week and we need to start thinking about staffing that. I'd like another OSC to go Monday and a 4th to go Tuesday or Wednesday.

On Saipan, Chris W and Marty are working the Mobil oil spill and have begun to participate in ESF 10 activities. We will staff the JFO in Saipan (probably Lance) and Michelle still has planned field work there 8/17. While Michelle can assist w ESF 10 we need to get someone to head out earlier to transition w Chris and Marty.

I'd like to keep 6 OSCs for a meeting on 8/11 but by then we'll need at least 2 for Farmington and one more en route to Saipan arrive well before 8/17. We will work w ERT, PST and Region 10 but need to staff these key positions ASAP.

Suddenly we've got some tough calls and real urgencies. Let me know what you can do to travel Monday or Tuesday.

Thanks!
